HANCOCK TEACHERS HOLD MEETING AT NORTH CENTRAL

The second meeting of the Hancock County Teachers Association was held Monday, December 13, 1965, at 3:00 p.m. in the cafeteria of Hancock North Central School. The meeting was called to order by President Oren L. Seal, J. C. Harrell offered the invocation.

President Seal and Vice-President Doc Thigpen were designated to the annual MEA meeting in Jackson and voted expense money of $25 each. The proposed MEA legislative program of MEA was discussed. Members voted to have the delegates support the following proposals: (1) An increase in the appropriation for textbooks from the present approximately $3 per pupil per year to $5. (2) One additional teacher for each 600 pupils in average daily attendance in each school district. (3) Make assessment of property in all school districts more uniform and realistic. (4) Make mandatory, within legal limits, the County School Board's Recommendations for tax levy in support of school budget. (5) Revise the minimum salary schedule by providing annual salaries of $4,000 and $4,500 respectively for A and AA certificates, with 8 increments of $150 each. (6) A continuing cooperative study of the Retirement System in anticipation of pinpointing some sound and workable recommendations to the Legislature in 1968. The members voted against the following: (1) A five-member county Board of Education representing each supervisor's district elected from the county-at-large, excluding separate school districts. (2) An enlarged State Board of Education, with authority to select the chief State School Officer. (3) Provide funds to activate the Curriculum Commission previously provided by law. (4) Provide sufficient funds for the State Department of Education to secure and maintain an adequate staff. The members requested that the delegates get more information on the following before reaching a decision: A county Superintendent of Education chosen by the Board of Education with salary supplements from local funds set by said Board. A film, MAINTAINING CLASSROOM DISCIPLINE, was shown. A panel consisting of Mrs. John Tripp, HNC 3rd grade teacher, Mr. D. J. Martin, HNC Vocational Agriculture teacher, and Mrs. Pedro Puente, Gulfview 3rd grade teacher, led the discussion. They agreed that as long as pupils are working and interested, discipline problems will be minimized; the teacher should let the pupils do what is expected of them and not relax the standards; and that teachers must be alert and prepared.

DABNEY TELLS OF CAREER OPPORTUNITIES TO HNC STUDENTS

"There is something in life worth more than education and opportunity — Look up!", Conway Dabney, Public Relations Representative of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, told the students of Hancock North Central School, Thursday, December 9, when he gave the weekly career talk.

Mr. Dabney, who was introduced by John Agnew, Planning Engineer of the Telephone Company, told of the many career opportunities for young people. He cited the need for operators, service representatives, secretaries, and other office workers; for the many types of installation, maintenance, and service personnel for telephones; for numerous kinds of engineers and professional research workers; and for people to handle public relations. Since the Telephone Company's business is primarily that of offering services, it is necessary for them to hire the best trained and qualified personnel to render and improve these services. "Strive for excellence," he urged the students, "do not be content with just getting the job done — do it better than any one else."

Mr. Dabney also talked of the services of the future — push button dialing (which is actually in use now in some areas, coded dialing for frequently called numbers, and the untold possibilities for using laser — "pure light which goes in a straight line." He called this the most exciting discovery of our time and said that it would permit the sending of eighty million messages at one time.

Mr. Dabney, a native Mississippian, has spent his entire working life with the telephone company; he started as a line man and worked his way up to his present position. He is a past president of the Gulfport Chapter of Commerce and also a past president of the Rotary Club.

STANISLAUS XMAS HOLIDAYS

St. Stanislaus College will close Friday, December 17, for Christmas and New Year Holidays and will resume classes Monday, January 3.

Taxpayers in the Mississippi Gulf Coast area are reminded that those who have sustained losses as a result of Hurricane Betsy may have casualty losses deductible for income tax purposes. This announcement was made today by Herman C. Ingram, Designated Representative of the Mississippi City office of Internal Revenue Service.

Since casualty loss deductions, like other income tax deductions, must be substantiated, taxpayers should at this time start securing the necessary records to establish the amount of their deductible losses. A taxpayer claiming a casualty loss may be called upon to show:

1. The nature of the casualty and when it occurred;
2. That the loss was the direct result of the casualty;
3. That he was the owner of the property;
4. The cost or other basis of the property, evidenced by purchase contract, deed, etc. (Improvements should be supported by checks, receipts, etc.)
5. Depreciation allowed or allowable, if any;
6. Value before and after casualty; and
7. The amount of insurance or other compensation received or expected to be received for damages to the property, including the value of repairs, restoration, and clean-up provided without cost by disaster relief agencies or others.

In general, the amount of a casualty loss for income tax purposes is the lesser of (1) the decrease in fair market value resulting from the casualty or (2) the adjusted basis of the property (cost, less depreciation allowed or allowable). In some cases repair and cleaning-up costs may be used as evidence of the decrease in value of the property if (1) they are necessary to restore the property to its pre-casualty condition, (2) the amount spent for repairs is not excessive, (3) they do not more than take care of the damage suffered, and (4) the value of the property after repairs is no more than its value before the casualty. Amounts expended for protection against future casualties are not deductible but should be capitalized as permanent improvements.

The amount of the casualty loss, computed in accordance with the foregoing rules, must be reduced by the amount of any insurance or other compensation received or expected to be received. Amounts received by you from your employer or from disaster relief agencies, in the form of cash or property for the purpose of restoring or rehabilitating property lost or damaged in a disaster, reduces the amount of the deductible loss.

There is a limitation on the amount of deduction which you may claim. The computed amount of each loss is allowed only to the extent that such amount exceeds $100. The $100 limitation would apply to both husband and wife filing a joint return; or if they filed separate returns, then each individual would be subject to a $100 limitation for each casualty loss. This limitation does not affect losses incurred in a taxpayer's trade or business or in connection with transactions entered into for profit. Such losses will continue to be fully deductible.

For more information, taxpayers who sustained hurricane losses should obtain a copy of Document 5174 or call the Mississippi City office at telephone number 963-6552 and 963-6553.

LET'S LIVE AND LET LIVE
DRIVE CAREFULLY

At Christmas time a family can be so caught up in the hustle and bustle of the season that they sometimes forget about the additional traffic hazards to be faced by motorists during this time of year.

Commissioner of Public Safety General T. B. Birdsong said that between now and Christmas, drivers must do their utmost to prevent a holiday tragedy which could ruin their Christmas and others for a lifetime.

"This is a particularly dangerous time of the year, with hundreds of thousands of holiday shoppers making their rounds in cars and on foot," General Birdsong stated.

He reminded drivers that when they have their loved ones in the car, they should remember that their lives depend upon the actions of the man or woman behind the wheel.

"We invest a great deal of money in gifts for our families this time of year. But most gifts will not last a lifetime. Life itself is a precious gift and its only cost is extra vigilance and courtesy while driving," Birdsong pointed out.

During the Christmas season, traffic is heavier, weather is often bad, there are additional hours of darkness, and more pedestrians are on the streets. All of these factors add to the hazards of driving during this season.

Holiday celebrants who insist on driving after indulging in alcoholic beverages also add to the hazards. Traffic accidents brought death to 74 persons last December. During the last 10 days of that month there were 464 accidents reported in the state.

"By being alert, courteous and observing all traffic rules, each of us can do his part to prevent a traffic tragedy from casting its grim shadow over our own homes or the home of our friends and neighbors," Birdsong concluded.

Merry Christmas

We Chorus our greetings and heartfelt good in a song of Christmas cheer to good friends and customers.

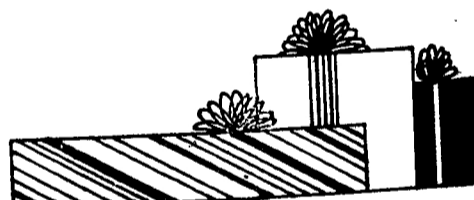

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Jacob

This year give her the most precious gift of all — give her time.

Hours pass by so quickly, we never seem to have time to do the many things we want to do. This year give your wife those extra hours... time to enjoy visiting with friends, reading to the children, working in her church circle or her club. How can you give her time? Simple. Give her a new electric appliance which will make her work load easier, cut her work hours. She'll save almost an hour a day with an electric dishwasher. She'll save both time and effort with an electric washer and dryer. Cooking will be just plain fun with a new electric range.

This year give her the most precious gift of all. Give her time. Give her an electric appliance.

USDA OFFERS EMERGENCY CONSERVATION AID IN HANCOCK COUNTY

Secretary of agriculture Orville L. Freeman has offered emergency conservation assistance in Hancock County, Mississippi, where nut orchards were severely damaged by Hurricane Betsy in September.

An allocation of $50,000 has been made to the Hancock County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee in assisting farmers with the cost of emergency measures under the 1966 Agricultural Conservation program.

Emergency measures to be undertaken include principally of removing debris from the tung nut orchards.

The Secretary of Agriculture is authorized by Public Law 85-558 to designate disaster areas for emergency conservation assistance to restore land damaged by natural disasters.

Funds allocated for cost-sharing emergency conservation measures also are authorized by P. L. 85-58 and will be administered through the Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) by State and county ASC Committees.

Under ACP the Federal Government shares the cost of conservation needed to assure, in the public interest, the wise use, protection, and improvement of soil and water resources on farmlands.

Emergency conservation assistance is in addition to ACP, and can be made available to aid farmers anywhere in the United States when lands are damaged by natural disaster.

ANNOUNCE $41.5 MILLION TELEPHONE CONSTRUCTION PROGRAM FOR 1966

Public Service Commissioner, W. E. "Bucky" Moore of the Southern District, together with C. L. Lott, Vice President & General Manager for Southern Bell in Mississippi, today announced a record telephone construction program for Mississippi in 1966... 41.5 million dollars.

Commissioner Moore said, "This is the largest expansion program ever undertaken by the utility in its Mississippi operations. It will provide improved and additional telephone service throughout Mississippi." A part of the utility's construction program provides for an accelerated rural expansion program, commencing in 1966. This rural program is 2 1/2 times larger than the utility's normal annual program for rural telephone construction. It will provide service to about 10,500 more rural families in addition to the 82,000 presently being served. Installation of these phones will give each family access to the other 91 million telephone lines in the United States.

Commissioner Moore further said Southern Bell's tremendously expanded over-all construction program provides for a continuation of the orderly expansion of both urban and rural telephone service in Mississippi, taking into account present and expected growth.

C. L. Lott, Southern Bell Vice President, said: "Mississippi's BAWI program, inaugurated in 1936, has realized its goal—it has balanced Agriculture with Industry. This has resulted in a tremendous improvement in Mississippi's economy, with increased requests for telephone service from both rural and urban areas. To meet these requests, we have expanded our construction expenditures in Mississippi to an all-time record. This 41.5 million dollars will be spent throughout Mississippi and will be a healthy stimulus to jobs and business."

Mr. Lott further said, "The acceleration of Mississippi's economic growth placed increased emphasis on the many problems of providing adequate telephone facilities to many rural communities. Members of the Mississippi Legislature recognized these problems. In 1962, enabling legislation was passed allowing County Boards of Supervisors, with approval of the A & I Board, to provide an ad valorem tax exemption for a specified period of time on construction of rural telephone facilities. Where applied, this enabling legislation greatly accelerated our rural telephone expansion on projects that could not otherwise be justified from an economic standpoint."

Southern Bell's record 41.5 million dollar construction program for 1966 will require extensive additions of complex telephone switching and Central Office equipment—plus comprehensive engineering plans. For example, Mr. Lott said, "During 1966, we will require more than 3 1/2 billion feet of new telephone cable to meet this expansion program. It will also require over 350 additional employees by the end of 1966, for our construction, installation and clerical forces. This will increase Southern Bell's overall annual payroll from 25.4 million dollars in 1965 to over 27.5 million dollars in 1966."

The utility, on the way to 1966's record construction program, scheduled increasingly large expenditures yearly to meet the entire state's need for fast, dependable communications.

These yearly investments in Mississippi's progress grew from a total investment of $19,353,000 in 1940 to a grand total of over $260-million at the end of 1965.

to Mississippi's economic growth including payroll, construction taxes and local purchases... to the 20-year period since 1945 total nearly one billion dollars.

Commissioner Moore closed by saying many benefits from the utility's record program 1966 construction program will result to residents in the Southern District.

"In the accelerated state-wide rural expansion program about 5,500 rural families in the Southern District will be served. This additional telephone service—and resulting expenditures—will greatly strengthen the economic well being of the overall Southern District," Commissioner Moore said. He also pointed out Southern District projects will be announced individually preceding start of construction.

Through the first eight months of 1965, foreign steel mill products entered the United States at a rate of about 20 tons a minute.

Mr. Lott, Southern Bell Vice President, said: "Mississippi's BAWI program, inaugurated in 1936, has realized its goal—it has balanced Agriculture with Industry. This has resulted in a tremendous improvement in Mississippi's economy, with increased requests for telephone service from both rural and urban areas. To meet these requests, we have expanded our construction expenditures in Mississippi to an all-time record. Any other? Yes!

There must be reasons. Sure!

Name ten. OK:

1. All these comforts are available: steering wheels that tilt or tilt and telescope; AM/FM Multiplex Stereo radio, first ever offered in cars; and Strato-bucket seats (to give you just a sampling).
2. Comforton automatic heating and cooling you can order—Just dial the temperature and turn it on; Comforton automatically keeps you comfortable no matter what the weather outside.
3. More engine choices—the widest horsepower range available: the 425-hp Turbo-Jet V8 in Chevrolet and Corvette to a 90-hp Four in Chevy II.
4. Body by Fisher—Craftsmanship by the world's best known coachmakers with everything from luxurious interiors to the long lasting Magic-Mirror acrylic lacquer finish.
5. Self-cleaning rocker panels flush out salt and other corrosives with rainwater, dry themselves with outside air—another way Chevrolet takes extra care so you needn't bother.

6. A hushed and gentled ride with body mounts designed to isolate vibration better and shock absorbers matched to body style—coupe, sedan, convertible, wagon.
7. America's only rear-engined car, Corvair, with more weight over the driving wheels where you need it and less on the steering wheels where you don't.
8. America's only true sports car, Corvette, with fully independent suspension, four-wheel disc brakes and engines you can order up to 427 cubic inches.
9. Higher resale value—Chevrolets traditionally are worth more at trade-in time because more people want Chevrolets... new or used.

POINSETTIAS AND puppy DOGS

Poinsettias for Grandmother, a puppy for brother Joe, stationery is perfect for Aunt Sue.

"Tis the season to be jolly," carol the loudspeakers in the department stores, but each year it becomes harder. Days are frantic with shopping, wrapping, and addressing. There's too much to do, too many things to remember; Sally's school play, a white elephant for Joe's Scout party, the Kirby's gala on the twenty-second.

There's no time for thinking, but sometimes late at night, a moment for reflection. In the rush of doing all the right things have we forgotten our reasons for doing them? Have we come bearing gifts, like the Magi, with hearts empty of the wonder and awe that was theirs?

Perhaps we need to hear anew the age-old story of a tiny Babe wrapped and gently laid in a manger while shepherds quaked and angels sang. The door of your Church stands open. Worship there the newborn King this Christmas and every Sunday.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a new civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

NASA News..

NASA GAINESVILLE, Miss. — The Sellers Construction Co. of Hattiesburg, Miss. has been awarded a subcontract for renovation and modification of a portion of the former garment manufacturing plant on Goodyear Blvd. in Picayune, Miss. occupied by administrative personnel of the General Electric Co.'s Mississippi Test Support Department.

The work, valued at $90,800, will include electrical, plumbing, flooring, air conditioning and painting in a 30,000 square-foot portion of the 52,000 square-foot, single-story structure. The renovation is to be completed within 60 days.

Personnel of GE-MTSD's finance, materials and logistics, and engineering sections have worked in the off-site facility since last June due to a shortage of office space at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Mississippi Test Facility. The renovations will provide an office area for 250 employees.

General Electric, through its Mississippi Test Support Department, is providing plant and technical support for NASA at the test site 15 miles southeast of Picayune.

WELFARE CHECKS DECREASED DURING MONTH OF NOVEMBER

Miss.'s public assistance caseload, total payment, and average grant decreased for the month of November. Miss. Evelyn Gandy, Commissioner of Public Welfare, said that federal and state regulations made it necessary to make cuts in the month of November for some reductions in welfare checks those persons who recently received increases in their social security checks. However, in most instances these cuts will be restored in December.

"We realize how extremely low our welfare checks are and feel fortunate that we have the federal and state funds to restore most of these cuts in the December checks of our aged, blind and disabled citizens who are eligible for welfare assistance," Miss Gandy stated.

Total payments for November amounted to $4,350,254, a decrease of $123,551 from October. An average monthly grant of $36.44 was made to 72,229 aged people; 2,522 blind people received average monthly grants of $43.79; there were 66,522 dependent children who received an average of $11.38; and 19,551 permanently and totally disabled received $43.54 as average grants.

Private hospitals provided hospital care for 1,005 old age assistance recipients and 25 aid to the blind recipients. Cost of Hospital Care totaled $133,297.51 of which $130,566.82 was for old age assistance recipients and $2,730.69 for aid to the blind recipients. Each recipient is eligible for a maximum of 20 hospital days each year.

There were 788 children in foster or boarding homes at a cost of $34,057.51 paid from federal, state, and local funds. Most of these children are dependent or neglected.

DEATHS IN HOME ACCIDENTS

NEW YORK — Deaths in home accidents in the United States dropped 2 per cent, from 29,000 in 1963 to 28,500 in 1964, according to the Insurance Information Institute. More than two out of five such fatalities resulted from falls.

1965 marked the 100th anniversary of the rolling of the first Bessemer steel railroad rails in the U. S. A., in Chicago.

GE SUPPORT CONTRACT WITH NASA MTF RENEWED

GAINESVILLE, Miss. — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced the renewal of a contract with the General Electric Co. to provide support services for the NASA Mississippi Test Facility.

GE was selected by NASA in February, 1962, to support NASA's Apollo Manned Lunar Landing Program in the systems integration, checkout and reliability area. In April, 1963, NASA announced that it also would negotiate with GE to provide support services at MTF as part of the firm's overall participation in Project Apollo.

The renewal contract, NASA officials said, is valued at $42,925,000 and calls for GE to provide technical and plant support services including such technical services as engineering, test data operations, and cryogenics and propellant handling, and such plant support services as transportation, security and fire protection, marine operations, logistic and material, plant maintenance, reproduction and graphic arts, and food services and communications.

Much of this work is subcontracted by GE to small businesses and companies in the local area. Currently there are 39 subcontractors engaged by GE at MTF. A total of 1,445 persons are employed by GE under the contract.

MTF, a division of NASA's George C. Marshall Space Flight Center, Huntsville, Alabama, is a testing site for rocket engines and stages used in the nation's heavy space vehicle programs.

MTF's immediate mission is to test fire the S-1C booster, first stage of the Saturn V launch vehicle, and the S-II, second stage of the Saturn V.

The NASA site is located in Hancock County, Mississippi, covering a total area of 142,000 acres, including a 128,000 acre "buffer" zone spilling into Pearl River County in Mississippi and St. Tammany Parish in Louisiana. The facility itself, now nearing operational status, sits on a 13,500 acre tract of land on the historic Pearl River in Hancock County.

MISS. JAYCEES TO RECOGNIZE EXCELLENCE IN TEACHER CONTEST

MEMPHIS, Miss. — The Mississippi Jaycees have announced they will recognize teaching excellence by selecting Mississippi's Outstanding Young Educator through a series of local awards and a state contest.

According to Ed Meek of Oxford, state OYE chairman, Jaycee clubs over the state will present Outstanding Young Educator Awards in their communities and local winners will enter competition for a state award.

State winners from over the nation will compete in a national contest to be held in Baton Rouge, La., on July 10-12. Last year Mississippi's Outstanding Young Educator, Bettye Quinn of Jackson, won one of four national awards.

Teachers of grades one through 12 and who are between the ages of 21 and 35, regardless of race or creed, are eligible for the Jaycees OYE Awards. The program is being co-sponsored by the United States Jaycees and World Book Encyclopedia.

"A panel of five judges representing professional educators, religious, civic and business leaders, will select the state winner," Meek said. The state award will include a plaque and a $250 scholarship award and will be presented in conjunction with the Mississippi Education Association Convention in Jackson in April. National winners receive $2,000 scholarship awards.

Selection of OYE winners will be based on career progress and service to the community. The public is urged to make nominations for local awards by entering the names of prospective OYE winners in local Jaycee contests. Deadline for entries in the state competition has been set for March 1.

YULETIDE BEAUTY IS REFLECTED IN LEGENDS OF FLOWERS AND GREENS

Flowers burst into bloom and trees and shrubs were green with new leaves on the night of the Saviour's birth, so legend says. Down through the ages, certain flowers and greens have held an honored place in the lore of Christmas — the holly and the ivy, mistletoe, rosemary, the Christmas rose, the thorn tree.

Ancient peoples believed that mistletoe had powers to ward off evil or cure a variety of illnesses. Druid priests of Britain, long ago, believed that mistletoe should be cut with a golden knife, then hung over doorways as a protection from evil. The Greeks, too, used it to ward off evil.

One of many legends surrounding the poinsettia tells of a poor Mexican girl who, having no gift of value, humbly placed some roadside weeds at the foot of a statue representing the Virgin and Child. Instantly, the weeds became scarlet blossoms and thus, so the legend says, the poinsettia was created.

Rosemary, the symbol of constancy, was at one time widely used in England as a Christmas decoration. During the Victorian era, it lost popularity and is now seldom, if ever, seen as part of the Yuletide greenery.

An old story says that the fragrance of rosemary was given to it when Mary placed the Christ Child's garments on this shrub. Like mistletoe, the brightly-berryed holly was early credited with magical and medical powers. It could even, legend said, tell girls the name of their future husbands.
